From the Pastor

The Mass Explained: By Cormac Burke

The purposes of the Mass

Thanksgiving: Christ offers himself for us in the Holy Mass, and he offers himself to us in Holy Communion. To be present at Mass, and receive Holy Communion, is the greatest thing we can do here on earth. Here, on the altar, we receive the greatest benefits that God gives us on earth. Once Mass has ended it is only logical that we remain for a few minutes giving thanks to our Lord. To leave without giving thanks would be a sign of little consideration or little faith. “The fact that the sacred function... has come to an end, does not dispense him who has communicated from making his thanksgiving. On the contrary it is most fitting that after he has received Holy Communion and after the Mass is over he should collect his thoughts and, in close union with his Divine Master, pass such time as circumstances allow in devout and salutary conversation with him.”⁷

Those moments, when one has received communion and the Mass has just ended, are the best moments to ask graces and favors from our Lord. He is so eager to give, but at the same time he wants us to ask. “Ask and you shall receive.” Can there be any better moment for asking than when we are united with him, when he is inside us, brought there by his immense love towards each one of us? Don’t waste those moments. Use them to pray for many things, for yourself, for your loved ones, for the Church, for the Pope, for souls everywhere, for the whole world...

Thank you for filling our bus and fueling our faith! Your generosity has enabled our St. Joseph CYO youth to attend the National Catholic Youth Conference (NCYC). This will be a powerful, faith-forming weekend that will strengthen their relationship with God and each other. We can’t wait to return home filled with the zeal of our faith and a renewed love for our Father, ready to share the joy of our encounter with the Lord with our parish community. We’ll be drawing the lucky number tonight with our CYO kids. Thank you again for your amazing support and prayers! Please continue to keep us in your prayers as we prepare for this incredible journey. If you’d still like to donate or support our trip, please contact Bryn Kuhlman. — St. Joseph CYO Youth & Leaders
